

Damn Blog!

Who ever thought that it would be this hard to be a blogger? I have been forever trying to get this blog up and running. I have had someone try to fill my sign up box with fake signals,,had to shut that down. Just recently I had someone trying to crack my sign in password and crashed my site temporarily. Now why would anyone want to do that? You can get a website for little of nothing why try to get into mine? Stop it or I'll track you doooowwwnnnn! :twisted: :evil: :-x

Then there is content and interesting topics to blog about. Usually whatever comes into my mind is amusing but it wont work with this blog. I need interesting helpful technical stuff. I don't know how people do it It is a mad house. Hopefully I will be able to finish it soon. Its driving me crazy :lol: .

Happy sql-ing!
